Body bulle... Trustmedia aspires to ensure that the websites and applications on which it offers online Advertisements are available to visitors, but does not guarantee that these websites and applications will be available at all times, uninterrupted and in full. Trustmedia reserves the right to block or decommission the websites and applications unannounced for maintenance, modification or improvement, or to modify, expand, delete or otherwise change the website or application. Trustmedia is not liable for any damages arising as a result. ¶

Body bulle... » If a measurement system needs to be used to determine the fee of an online advertising campaign, Trustmedia's measurement system will be used. By industry standards (www.iab-belgium.be), a difference of up to 10% between the ad impressions measured by both parties will not be considered unusual and will not trigger a review of the fee. If the difference between the ad impressions measured by both parties exceeds 10%, Trustmedia and the Advertiser will jointly investigate the cause of the difference with the aim of resolving it. As long as the cause of the measurement difference is not found, Trustmedia's measurement results shall be used to determine the fee. ¶

Body bulle... » The Advertiser may only collect the following anonymous metadata using cookies, scripts or by other means: (i) how often the Advertisement has been viewed (number of views), (ii) the number of clicks and (iii) the following data: the screen resolution used, the browser used, the operating system used and which part of the Advertisement has been viewed in which period. Subject to the foregoing, the Advertiser is not permitted to collect information, store information or access information from users of Trustmedia's websites and applications via cookies, scripts or by any other means. More specifically, the collection of information for the purposes of retargeting, audience targeting and behavioural targeting, information about users' behaviour on Trustmedia's websites or applications is not permitted without Trustmedia's prior written consent. ¶

Body bulle... In case of cancellation of one or more Advertisements of an advertising campaign or a continuing performance contract, the volume discount (if any) allowed will be reviewed and invoiced in respect of the Advertisements already published. ¶
